

4.2: Low Density, Residential (R-1)

4.2.1: Intent

The Low Density, Residential District (R-1) is a predominately single family residential area. Other uses may be considered in the district as long as they do not detract from the character of the small-scale residential uses. Additional standards are placed on these uses to mitigate their impact on single family uses. Government buildings, schools, and parks are also appropriate uses for the Low Density, Residential District. Standards for all uses in the district are designed to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of Clinton.
